IMPORTANT. This document does not contain the full terms, conditions, limitations and exclusions of the policy, which you can find in the Policy Booklet and your Policy Schedule.

What is this type of insurance?

The total you can claim for each new accident your pet may suffer is £2500 unless there is an additional benefit limit for a specified condition. There's no limit to the number of separate accidents that you can claim for. As long as the insurance policy remains in force there's no time limit on a claim. Once the financial limit has been reached, any on-going treatment that is required as a result of an accident will be excluded from future claims and treated as a pre-existing condition.

Pet Insurance can provide cover for many of the unexpected financial costs of owning a pet. However, its main purpose is to pay for unexpected vet bills and therefore it will only pay for the treatment of accidents that happened, after you took out the policy. Pet insurance will not pay for expected costs of pet ownership such as preventative treatment.

You can, of course, shop around at renewal. Just bear in mind that any existing conditions your pet's developed, whether diagnosed or not, may not be covered elsewhere
